The following verses, from the pen of a lady of Ohio, certainly indicate Poetic faculty or unusual cultivation. We defy the snarlers at American Poetry to select a better thing from the British Literature of the last month. Ed. Trib.] 'IT WAS THY HAND, OH TIME.'

[For The Tribune.] I FELT there was a chilling breath Poured ice-like o'er my changing brow, And the light fires that burned beneath, Unroused and cold, were slumbering now.

My eve had lost its joyous light, My lips their wonted wreath of smiles: The spring-time brought no garland bright, Nor one sweet song the forest wilds. The flowers, 't is true, to bloom would start-

The sunlight pour its tints of gold; But could not wake my wearied heart To rapture, as in days of old. And then I deem'd the flowers must be Less lovely in this stranger land, And the young breeze less fresh and free Than that which erst my temples fanned. I deemed that to my veins once more

Their bounding pulse of life would come, Could I but taste the mountain air That wandered o'er my early home. With fainting step o'er mount and wave, I passed to seek my native glen-

Amid its bursting springs again. And it was there-the dancing stream, That o'er the cliff so madly dashed: Still, with its wild and joyous gleam, Unaltered in the sunlight flashed.

My lip to cool, my brow to lave,

The wild winds that I loved to hear, Still through the rocking pine-trees breathed. And flowers, to Life's first memories dear,

In each wild nook their garlands wreathed. The mountain mists that upward curled, So upward bore my spirit too, Till all the light of all the world Seemed compassed in one glorious view.

Curled upward still, and still could fling Its hues, all gorgeous, to the wind; Yet sadly, with untempted wing, My weary spirit lagged behind. My early friends-I found them not: The young-the beautiful-the fair-

But still, in each familiar spot, Strange faces met me every where. And scattered were the forms I loved: The hearts that used my mirth to share-So to their distant homes I roved

To chide my spirit's sadness there.

I found them-and their bosoms yet Were clustering warm round Memory's shrine Bnt ah! on every brow I met The signet that I felt on mine.

Again I sought where brighter skies On fairer lands their glories shed, And graceful groups and beauteous dyes Were o'er the glowing landscape spread. The birds' rich song-the bursting flowers-

The fountains softly murmuring flow-The drooping fruit-the vine-clad bowers-Were like an Eden here below.

I bade the breeze, with odors rife, Amid my loosened locks to roll. And wake once more to buoyant life The gelid current of my soul. I felt the South wind's balmy play;

I wooed the Summer's joyous smile And bathed me in the dancing spray Of many a bright, and glorious isle. Yet still upon my lip and brow Their rigid seal unloosened lay;

And colder waxed my spirits play. Young, lovely faces round me shone; Free, happy voices rent the air: My bosom waked no answering tone-

And calmer grew my pulse's flow,

My heart could find no echo there. And then I knew no foreign clime Had thus the pulse of Life congealed-

It was the icy hand of Time, Whose signet on my brow was sealed. Oberlin, Ohio, Jan. 1844. THE NESTORIANS .- A correspondent of the Commercial Advertiser, writing from Constantinople, contradicts all the reports about the Missionaries being the cause of the recent massacre of this Christian tribe. He states that, from his own certain knowledge, the invasion was planned long before a Missionary put foot in the Nestorian territory. The writer exculpates every body but the Turkish Government, and says in conclusion :

Without going into the proofs, I will say a few words to explain the real and, so far as the evidence goes, the sole cause of the massacre. The Turkish Goverument has long intended to bring the independent Nestorians into subjection. Living within the borders of Turkey, they have maintained from the earliest ages a perfect independence both of Turks and Kurds. The assault made upon the Patriarch in 1841 was executed by a combined force of these two People. It arose from a secret understanding between the Kurdish chiefs and the Pasha of Erzroum, and was doubtless sanctioned by the Porte. The design was to effect the long-desired object of subjugating the Nestorian tribes, and for a time it was thought to have been accomplished .-But the Nestorians soon appeared as independent as ever, and it was found necessary to accomplish something more than an attack upon their Patriarch. Hence the recent invasion and the awful massacre. It arose wholly from Mahomedan ambition. There, and there alone, does the guilt rest; and the afflicted Nestorians will probably find no repose until they consent to wear the voke of Turkish domination. I am, Messrs. Editors, yours truly. P. S .- Since writing this letter, I have received a formal declaration from Mar Shimon, the Patriarch of the Nestorians, that the massacre of his people is not to be attributed in any degree to the causes stated in the article upon which I have been commenting, but solely to the cupidity of the Mohammedans. This is enough, I trust, to set the matter at Lynching Extraordinary.—The Yazoo (Miss. Banner of the 6th inst. contains the following strange paragraph. We have not before heard of the circumstance, and for the honor of human nature we hope the story is not true.

We understand from a friend just from New Orleans, who came passenger as far as Vicksburg, on the steamboat Queen of the West, that a most dreadful case of lynching occurred on board. It seems that one of the cabin passengers had his trunk stolen, and that one of the three deck passengers was suspected of having committed the theft; he was at once taken and a guard placed over him; during the night he jumped overboard and it is supposed that he was drowned. When daylight made its appearance, the other two deck passengers were taken into the cabin. and it was determined that twelve of the passengers should award what punishment should be inflicted on these two men; they determined that they should receive thirty-nine lashes on their bare back. They were then stripped, and the gentleman who had lost the trunk was selected to carry into execution the judgment of these twelve disinterested gentlemen. He procured a rope, and we are told, cut and slashed the poor fellows until they fainted. They received this punishment because they were merely suspected of being accomplices of the one who had jumped

COLD .- The weather has been excessively cold for our climate, during the last four days, and the amusement of skating on the ponds has been going on with great glee. The rivers to the north of us have no doubt been blocked up, and we fear the James River navigation has been closed as far down as City Point, at least. [Norfolk Herald. 20th. SINKING OF THE LEVEE .- On Tuesday night, at 10 o'clock, the levee in front of Free Town, opposite the Second Municipality, to the extent of fifty yards, sunk into the river. A number of persons repaired immediately to the spot, and proceeded in throwing up a temporary levee in the rear of the old one before any serious damage was done. [N. O. Bee, Jan, 18,

It appears that Messrs. Nunes, Larimore and Sears, were conveying the barge Emperor to Apalachicola. That, in the Choctawatchee Bay, near the head, she ran aground, and that those on board were compelled to go on shore and make a camp. That they soon discovered an Indian camp occupied by seven Indians, viz: two warriors, two women and three children. The Indians appeared friendly at firstbut, while the whites were out fishing, they were suddenly attacked by the red men. Mr. Larimore was killed-Mr. Sears was severely wounded-and Mr. Nunes, with a black boy, succeeded in escaping to Lagrange, where he hoped to raise a party to go after the Indians, capture them and retake their property.

Choctawhatchee Bay:

The Pensacola Gazette of Saturday contains the following account of an Indian outrage, which it says was perpetrated at the head of

There does not appear to be any very evident motive for an outrage of the nature above, unless it were a sudden wish of the Indians to get possession of the barge in possession of the whites.

Dick Ratcliff, a half breed, was hung in the Cherokee Nation, on last Saturday, for the murder of his wife. Ratcliff was wealthy, had previously enjoyed a respectable reputation; was a man of considerable intelligence and had been sheriff of one of the Districts in the Nation. The murder was most barbarous. Cause, intemperance.

We learn that Hampton, convicted at the last term of the Madison Circuit Court for the murder of Cox, and who was to have been hung on the 30th ult., obtained a supersedeas, until his case can be heard in the Supreme Court.

Doct John Thomson 5200 REWARD WILL BE PAID TO PROVE THE FOLLOWING AFFIDAVIT UNTRUE-JOHN THOMSON, 313 Broome-st.—SCRO-PULA—Important Cure confirmed. New-York, Jan. 26th, 1814. On the 8th of January, I gave my affidavit that an asto-1314. On the 3th of January, I gave my affidavit that an astonishing cure had been performed upon me by Doctor John Thomson, 343 Broosse street, of a dreat hit case of scrafula, call rhium, crysipelas, scald head or lebrasy, all of which it had been denominated. In said affidavit, I stated that I had been afflicted it years, that I had employed 10 different Physicians, that I had taken 40 bottles of Sand's Sarsaparilla and between 40 and 50 bottles of Bristol's Sarsaparilla. That my head had been shaved and dressed with poultices and ointment afternately for 41 months. I also used 40 boxes of Dr. Whiting' celebrated Extract of Dancus. I also used for 3 months constantly, a strong tea drink made of Burdock, yellow dock, pricklyash and Sarsaparilla. One physician I paid $64 after a strendance of five months; another attended me eight months, but all of no use. My head was one solid scale all over, which I had to remove every 24 hours with soap-suds, or months, but all of no use. My head was one solid scale all over, which I had to remove every 24 hours with soap-suds, or the itching irritation or distress was intolerable. I believe I had all the compound miseries incident to erystpelas, scald head, salt rheum and scrofula. I have spared no pains or expense to cure this complaint. Is 41 years I have paid between $100 and $500 without any benefit. It stuck to my stomach the past season, thus filling up my measure of trouble and misery to the brim. My distress was beyond my description. Almost in astate of despair, I called upon Dr. John Thomson, on the 30th of December, 1843, and he engaged to cure it by contract, and on the 5th of January, 1844, ten days after, my head was to all appearance well, and my general health better than for three years. I now renew my affidavit that those thus afflicted may know I am well. And I would say to all afflicted with scrofula, erystpelas and all eruptions of the skin, to try the means I have tested and they will never recret it. I have seen several other persons who have been cured by Dr. Tkomson, who were induced to make the trial from seeing a statement of my cure. statement of my cure.
